

Mr. Fouad Makhzoumi
Chairman
Future Pipe Industries

As the founder of Future Pipe Industries (FPI), Fouad Makhzoumi has rapidly steered the company from an exciting, new start up, to the global leader in engineered, performance-based, fiberglass pipe design and manufacturing.

In 1984, Mr. Makhzoumi founded Future Pipe Industries with a small group of investors, and he has been actively involved in the management and the development of the business ever since. He became Chief Executive Officer in 1986 until 2003 when his son, Rami Makhzoumi, assumed the role.

Mr. Makhzoumi has been Executive Chairman of Future Pipe Industries since 2003 and he reassumed the role of Chief Executive Officer in 2011.

Active in the international business community, Mr. Makhzoumi has held a number of high-profile positions with leading international bodies:

1995 - 1997

Acting President, International Desalination Association

1995 - 1998

Vice Chairman, Institute for Social and Economic Policy in the Middle East at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University

1996

Present, International Board member, Council on Foreign Relations: US/Middle East Project

Committed to leading positive change, in 1997 Mr. Makhzoumi founded the Makhzoumi Foundation, a private non-profit organization which contributes to Lebanese civil societal development by providing vocational training, health care and micro-credit programs.

Mr. Makhzoumi has both an undergraduate Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from the University of Hull in England and a Master of Science degree in Administrative Sciences from Cass Business School at the City University, London.
